SOMETHING NEW AT AMHERST

New reports from Amherst state that the Amherst high school has embarked upon a unique policy. It is reported that a special period in the school program has been set aside for smoking! Five minutes at a time will be allowed for boys to adjourn to a room and smoke, while the girls may indulge the custom in the school yard. There will be faculty supervision and no pupil can smoke without a written statement from parent or guardian. Those found smoking outside this special period will be severely punished.
The school is no doubt is to curb smoking among high school pupils. Relatively few will come with the required parent authorization and even then the thrill will be lost when smoking is recognized. Many high school pupils smoke because they think it "smart" or for the thrill of violating school rules.
However, we venture the guess that this method of treating the school smoking problem will not be universally adopted. You don't abolish an evil by making it legal. The ones who smoke unbeknownst to parent and teacher will find a way of continuing to do so. And with recognition, the teaching of adolescent smoking, which is a social and physical handicap to those of school age is set up a recognized period of indulgence. We feel sure that community and parent opinion at Amherst will not understand any encouragement given by teachers to smoking among high school boys and girls.

Join! Local Drive Starts Sunday

The drive for membership in the Red Cross in this county starts officially Sunday. On that day a canvas will be made in virtually all the churches and communities.

That the Red Cross does a wonderful work all over the world is an accepted fact. That in itself is ample reason for Appomattox obtaining its quota of 500 memberships. But the work of the Red Cross in OUR county is so outstanding that our people just can't wait the chance to join this year.

An average of over 600 families in this county yearly receive aid from the Red Cross! Thousands of yards of cloth, hundreds of barrels of flour and countless pieces of clothing are GIVEN this county by the American Red Cross. Roughly, the organization gives this county about twenty dollars to every one we raise in memberships!

The appeal is so compelling that the only way to meet it is to JOIN. It costs only $1.00. Fill out the following blank and pin $1.00 to it and mail to either Don Moses, treasurer, or C. H. Robinson, chairman Roll Call, Appomattox, Va. A button and membership card will be mailed you.

How Cardui Helps Women
"Malnutrition" means that your body is not getting enough to keep it up, so that what it has to do is not done well. You may not be eating enough to keep up the work of the body, or there may be something wrong that keeps you from getting full value from the food you eat. Because of malnutrition, some women have aches and pains every month. Such pains should not be neglected.
Take Cardui to give you a better appetite, to give you more strength from the food you eat - to build up and increase your feeling of well-being. Aches and pains go away as you build up with the help of Cardui.

YOUTH MARCHES ONWARD
at Virginia's Historic Schools

THE universities, colleges and preparatory schools of Virginia are rich in historic traditions and splendidly equipped with modern educational facilities. They provide a thorough training for young Americans in cultural, commercial and engineering vocations.

To many of these institutions, utility is supplied by the Virginia Public Service Company. Among them, the great University of Virginia, founded by Thomas Jefferson, standing on a beautiful campus at Charlottesville, the Virginia Military Institute, widely known as the "West Point of the South," located at Lexington, and the Washington and Lee University of memorable historic background. Numerous other colleges and preparatory schools, rich in tradition and modern in achievement, dot the sacred soil traversed by the far-flung lines of the Company.

Through scientific research and experiment by college-trained men, notable progress has been made in developing electrical equipment to make industrial and farm labor more productive, household economy more convenient, and life more comfortable. Instantly available at the snap of the switch, power from the lines of modern utility systems now provides the indispensable advantages of electric service at a cost that is nominal in comparison with the benefits obtained.

The Virginia Public Service Company, a utility named and directed by Virginians, has steadily pursued a policy of development of its system so that these advantages might be brought within the reach of an increasing number of consumers. The company now serves more than 975 communities in Virginia and West Virginia.

Buckingham

Buckingham, Nov. 15.—William Charleston lost his home most of its contents last week when his house was burned near State River mills. The house had recently been added to the late George Hockley, who was one of the most noted men of the county and owned the mill and farm, the mill being known far and wide as "Hockley's Mill," but in recent years the mill was rebuilt by fire and was rebuilt by Hockley's brothers, who owned it then and it was called then "Slate River Mills." It is situated on State River about three miles from this place.

A visit in the southern part of the county last Sunday found the roads in splendid condition, and going to New Store and visiting at "Kewick," the home of C. H. Jones, there were shown rare old pictures and antique furnishings. One large framed picture was that of a group of young students at William and Mary College of long ago, among whom were J. A. C. Chandler, Albert H. Hill and Plummer F. Jones, who were college mates in this historic house, Governor Nelson A. Miles had his headquarters when in charge of the federal forces on their return from Appomattox, in April 1865. The late Louis Dibel, Jones, who owned the home, had a large collection of relics, which he acquired in a long life, among which was an Indian pipe said to have been the pipe of Pocahontas, the Indian chief, Powhatan, and as claimed the veritable club that was raised to slay John Smith when Pocahontas intervened to save his life.

Interest in what is and has been done at the now deserted Williams Mountain continues unabated, the sixty cottages for winter quarters for the young people of the county are finished, a supply of pure water from a mountain spring is run into a large tank, a pipe line and a water system provided, there being both hot and cold water in the cottages. As the mountain and the surrounding land is the property of a wealthy Richmond man, the question is being asked as to what final disposition will be made of these well-built cottages, since no one has been moved without the consent of the owner, and some one has suggested that Mr. Sheppard, the owner, would be likely to give them to the Boy Scouts to be used in their summer outings. Mr. Sheppard has a summer home not far from the camp. The officials in charge have provided sanitary arrangements and when the manager in charge was asked if it is true that phone lines will be provided and connection made from the watch tower to all parts of the county to be used in time of fire, he said, "yes."

Buckingham farmers will get their checks from the agricultural department at Washington soon, for reduction in acreage sown in wheat. One farmer told the agent he intended to reduce his acreage this year anyway, and he didn't care to make any report of it, but he was told this money is practically a gift from the government and he had just as well share it, and it was found he was entitled to $40 which he said would pay for his fertilizer.

The wheat crops in this county are looking well. Buckingham, Nov. 15.—(Bridge Creek) Mr. and Mrs. Winston (Hornhill) of Tower Hill visited here, and Mrs. Scott Beale Sat. and Sunday.
